Troy High School Song

O Trojans, list to our joyous song
In praise of the red and white,
And honor your Alma Mater as long
As you dare to be true and do right.
Remember how long the school has stood,
Remember how great she has grown;
And if we always strive as we should,
Her fame will be wider known.

All hail to the high school, to her we'll be true;
All hail to the loved red and white;
Her loyalty ever we'll gladly renew
As we point to the school colors bright.
The good time we have as the days speed away.
We'll hold in memory dear;
We'll honor our high school forever and aye;
For our dear T. H. S. we will cheer.

School Board

From Left, Seated—John L. Parsons, William W. Beaman, Treasurer; Guy C. Rockwell, President.
Standing—Wilson Weigester, Vice-President; Harold French, Secretary.

This year, 1945, marks the seventy-fifth anniversary of the first graduating exercises of Troy High School.

It is well for us to think for at least a few minutes of the difference between what the first graduating class had in the nature of educational advantages and what you, the class of 1945, have enjoyed throughout your school years.

Seventy-five years ago, the wild dreams of a vivid imagination could not have approximated the picture of Troy High School as it exists today. So too, you, this year's graduating class, aided by history and a meager collection of pictures, find difficulty in visualizing the school as it was in the early days, lacking in all the modern facilities of today.

At that time, one building served for high school and grades. There was but one study hall or home room and classes were even conducted in this room. The building was heated by stoves and artificially lighted by oil lamps. There was no plumbing or water connections. The curriculum, compared with today, was limited and educational facilities were very few. Students were obliged to purchase their own books and there was no equipment for laboratory work and only limited means for any research study. There were no music or art edpartments. Agriculture, vocational work and domestic science were not taught.

But there was one thing which that first graduating class no doubt possessed which the seventy-five intervening years have not, nay, cannot improve upon—the one thing which is not measured in years or generations or centuries or by figures on a dial—the one thing which sometimes the lack of adversity and hardships dulls and too often easy methods fail to develop —the one thing which is not necessarily dependent on a fine curriculum or other school advantages.This one thing to which I refer lies in the soul of the individual. It is the sincere desire and the will to learn and improve and develop one's character to the Divine ideal.

There is no question but that this first graduating class possessed this one thing to a great degree. They were imbued with a great desire for learning and with a will and determination to overcome all difficulties in acquiring the same. They did develop their characters and they proved to be useful and outstanding citizens throughout the length of their lives.

So this is the lesson which we all can learn in considering this seventy-fifth anniversary: That what Troy School has offered throughout the years and is continuing to offer, can be most useful and helpful only to those who sincely embrace every opportunity to make the most of every facility, be it great or be it small, which is at their service. This is the heritage left to us from the early days of Troy High School as an inspiration and help for noblest effort.

WILLIAM H. BEAMAN, 1903.

To the Class of 1945:

The first graduating class of Troy High School contained three members. All three of these students lived long and useful lives—lives made happy, serviceable, and profitable to themselves and to others because as young persons they prepared for the future. So it is with you; so it has been with all the classes from the first to the 75th; so it will be from the 75th to the 150th: "The future belongs to those who prepare for it.'

Student Council

At the beginning of every school year each class assembles to elect their class president, vice-president, secretary, and treasurer. These officers take care of business that includes the entire classs.

After electing their class officers they go to their homerooms to elect homeroom officers, who have charge of the governing of their homeroom. At the same time they elect a Student Council Representative to represent their homeroom in discussion including the entire student body. The Student Council meets with Mr. Croman almost every Wednesday to discuss and decide such matters as school discipline, vacations, time of starting and ending school periods, and school improvement.

Class of '45

We are the class of '45;
We're on our toes and "hep to jive".
We've had our fun and worries to,
And some are sorry we'll soon be through.

We'll soon leave school—the world to face,
Use our knowledge and find our place,
As we've a job that must be done—
To fight for victory till the war is won.

Then peace will send us another way.
We hope to meet again some day.
No matter when that day may be,
Troy High School will live in our memory.

—Pauline Ide

CLASS SONG

(Tune—Tipperary)

We've had a grand time at Troy High School;
Now we must say farewell.
What we've learned here at Troy High School
We're surely proud to tell.
Now goooodby Prof. and teachers,
Students learn to strive
To be as good for Alma Mater
As we of '45.

—Adelaide Hulslander.

Class History

On the eventful day of September 7, 1941, 111 "green" Freshmen met for the first time inside the halls of Troy High School. The staring glances of the upper classmen made us feel as strangers among so many people. At our first classmeeting we elected Graydon Fanning, President; Glenn Havens, Vice President; Robert Schucker, Secretary; Agnes Shedden, Treasurer; which proved to be wise choices. On October 23 we had our first social event, the Freshman reception. After the ridiculous stunts we were called upon to perform, we no longer felt as green freshmen, but as welcome students to the High School we have grown to love.

School Calendar 1944 - 1945

October

2—Registration.
3—We are glad to see our friends after being kept home because of Polio!
4—Activites get under way, but fast.
5—First pay assembly with Mr. Cleaves showing us pictures of animals taken at night.
6—Here we are once more in the gym. The Curtis Campaign starts.
7—Many groans as Trojans plod to classes on a Saturday morning.
9—We have time to catch our breath while teachers at at institute.
11—"Murder!" He (Mr. Merrill) says. Tryouts for the Senior Play "Midnight."
16—Curtis sales totaled $804.75.
19—Election of Class Homeroom officers.
20—Student Council Constitution read and pledge repeated by the students.
25—Juniors and Seniors tie in the annual Touch Football Game.
27—Miss Lyon's home room honored William Penn. The poor Freshmen. They really went through their paces tonight.

November

3—We hear about some interesting experiences during the past summer.
6—Mrs. Demarest speaks.
8—Thrills, Chills, Laughs! Short scenes from the Senior Play. I must see it.
14, 15—Dress rehearsal for the Senior Play.
16, 17, 18—"Is my make-up smeared? Why do my knees knock? Gulp! There's the curtain." It was a big success.
17—Ensign Bob Childs speaks to us about his experiences on D-Day.
20—Buy those stamps and bonds, Trojans. The Sixth War Loan Drive starts.
23—Thanksgiving Vacation.
24—Seventh grade homeroomers presented the Thanksgiving Assembly.
25—Woe is me! Another Saturday session and loads more to come.
28—False alarm. Just a practice fire drill.
29—The Senior Play cast helps itself to plenty of chicken.
30—The good old days are the best! Says who? A snow storm makes us march to classes to the tune of a hand bell rung by Prof.

December

1—No school. Ray!
4—Did everyone get their dear? Woops, wrong spelling.
4, 5, 6—A board of examiners are giving us the once-over.
5—Cheer for the Tropans! Troy played East Smithfield and won. First game for the girl's varsity, but they did not do so well.
7—Junior B girls won volleyball championship.
8—Choice of an old-fashioned singing assembly or study. The Hi-Y boys left for a conference at Wilkes-Barre. Wellsboro wins by a 24–23 score.
11—Where's the rabbit? The magician sure puzzles us.
12—What a storm! Twelve inches in some places. School out at 11:30.
13—Darn the old snow???. It makes us stay out of school today.
14—Scurrying to classes once more.
15—Rev. Garth Maynard speaks in the Tri-Hi-Y Candlelight assembly.
18—Buy your "special" a season ticket.
19—Athletic Association emblems arrived. First League game on our court with Mansfield beating us.
22—Santa Claus is ahead of time! Home Room parties and loads of presents are the order of the day. The Glee Club's Christmas Assembly was very impressive. Merry Christmas every body.
30—Everybody's jiv'ng at the Trojan Hi Spot opening tonight.

January

2—A swell vacation, but still the snow.
5—Hear those yells? We really woop it up in Pep assembly today. Another close game, with Towanda winning by one point.
11—Yippee! We win over Tunkhannock.
17—We do some studying (?) at home while it snows.
19—A band concert with all the trimmings, ie., flag and baton twirlers.
20—Why the long faces? Because Canton beat us last night by one point, and, to top it off, another Saturday session.
23—A noon movie—"Rebecca of Sunnybrook Farm."
24—A mathematical genius, Mr. Keine, shows us some short cuts in mathematics.
26—Mr. Ivan Houck of the State Y. M. C. A. talks to us. He was sponsored by the Hi-Y.
31—$109.75 for the March of Dimes.

February

2—"I hear America singing." Well, at least one little part of it. The Glee Clubs sing in Assembly.
5—Trojans are so sleepy that we start school fifteen minutes later so they can get another forty winks!
9—Chester Childs honored the Boy Scouts in Assembly today.
12—We are half-way through the school year.

DRUM AND BUGLE CORPS

This organization consists of 16 members and is a very pleasing outfit to see and hear. For the past nine years it has been very active and has represented the school in nearly all sections of the State. They specialize in drills and various formations, and though their activity this year has been severely hampered by sickness and the heavy snows of last winter, yet they hope to make a fine comeback by Memorial Day.

A large number of the former members of the organization are now in service and many have admitted that much they learned in the Drum Corps has been of benefit to them.

This year's membership is as follows:

Fred Pfanmuller, Director.
D.F. Pomeroy,Jr., Assistant Director.

Sally Morris
Catherine Vreeland
Shirley Campbell
Jack Morris
Harold Bruce
Harry Bruce
Merle Brown

DRUM AND BUGLE CORPS

Senior Play

"Curtain goes up in five minutes!" Last minute powdering, lines being whispered, roll call, and one word, "Ready?" Curtain goes up and the play is off to a good start. Bob Morris and Claire Greenwood enter with shaking knees. Mrs. Wick receives last minute instructions on being real ghosty. Hugh Nichols tries to be hard-boiled. Aunt Julia straightens her shoulders and attempts to look dignified. Leonard starts his scratching nearly driving everyone backstage insane. Ellen has one of the "never idle" tongues. Samuel Hardman certainly looks the part of a woman's lawyer. Kate Bagley and Eddie Bower poke each other, wink and enter, full of curiosity. Joe Howard clears his throat and prepares to be the secretive person. Mrs. Smith takes a deep breath and picks up Paula Ward to carry her in.

The first act is over! Phew! What a relief.

Remarks by the cast, roll call, touch of powder to shiny noses and the second act begins, "Do your best!"

The curtain falls at the end of the second act and there is a brief relaxation period for the cast. "Ready?" The curtain is going up. Last act is the best of all. Hurrah! The play is over! 'So long, see you tomorrow," and we troop home to bed.

Hi-Y

The purpose of this crganizatien is to create, maintain, and extend high standards cf Christian character throughout the school and community.

The Hi-Y tries to attain its purpose through weekly meetings, by listening to speakers cn ycuth problems, and by practicing right-living in our daily life.

Each year the Hi-Y clubs of Northeastern Pennslvania have an Older Boys' Conference; this year it was held in Wilkes-Barre. Cur Hi-Y club sent twenty-two delegates. In different discussion groups, a wide variety of subjects connected with boys' problems was discussed.

The annual Easter Sunrise Service was held on the hill back of school building. A good crowd attended.

The Hi-Y does different things in its weekly meetings to help its members with their problems. This year we conducted discussion and dramatizations on such things as table manners, clean thoughts, and character development.

We all hope that the H-Y continues to be the leavening force among the boys of the school. The things we have learned in Hi-Y will help us whether we are cn the battlefield or the homefront.

Tri Hi-Y

President ..... Marie Card
Vice President ..... Marcella May
Secretary ..... Marjorie Criss
Treasurer ..... Lorraine Burnham
Advisor ..... Beatrice McCord

The purpose of the Tri-Hi-Y is to create Christian ideals in its sixty-two members and the whole student body.

As a year's project the Tri-Hi-Y took charge of the Defense Stamp sales. Excluding the sale of Bonds, our total sales in the school exceeded $200.00.

At Christmas time the club held a very impressive Candle-light Service for an assembly program. Rev. Garth Maynard spoke on the Club Objective, "To seek, to find, to share."

In our meetings during February and March we have studied the book, "In Our Hands," from which debates, friendly advice,and new ideas have resulted

In cooperation wth the Hi-Y, we sponsored Lenten services the week before Easter, held in the school building at noon. At this time, Rev. Maynard, Rev. Morey, and Rev. Punchard gave us short talks and special music was arranged by Miss Doris Bostock.

F. F. A.

The Troy Chapter of the Future Farmers of Amrica is a local chapter of the National F. F. A. and it is an organization for students of vocational agriculture. "Learning to do, Doing to learn, Earning to live, Living to serve", is the sincere and practical motto of the F. F. A.

The Troy Chapter has succeeded in its primary aim to aid its many members in the development of agricultural leadership, cooperation and citizenship. Within the chapter room every week the members make the decisions and actions which have made the chapter worthy. The management and operation of a farm located neary Troy is one of the many plans now being discussed as a group project to provide financial aid to the chapter's treasury and to give experience to the members.

The Troy High School agriculture department won first place prize in the 1944 State project by a score of 71 points. Ebensburg was second with 51 points. The boys scored in the various classes as follows:

Ellis Young	Second place	Dairy Cows
Harold Foster	Fourth place	Dairy Cows
Clarence Scott	Eighth place	Dairy Cows
William Seymore	Tenth place	Dairy Cows
Philip McClure	Eleventh place	Dairy Cows
Roger Madigan	Fifteenth place	Dairy Cows
Dilman Dunbar	Sixth place	Dairy Calves
Philip McClure	Tenth place	Dairy Calves
Richard Hall	Second place	Poultry Records
Fred Leonard	Third place	Poultry Records
Dilman Dunbar	Fifth place	Poultry Records
Victor Van Ness	Seventh place	Sheep
Vernon Roloson	Fifth place	Home Improvement
Leon Putnam	Ninth place	Home Improvement
Layton Calkins	First place	Winners Class

The winners class is composed of boys who in formers years have won a first place in the regular classes.

Since 1928 Troy Agriculture Department has won first place six times, second four times and third place once. Only once has the placement been below sixth when it dropped to tenth in the state.

Home Economics Department

The Home Economics Department of Troy High School offers to the girls in Senior and Junior High, courses which help them to be better home makers and better adjusted members of their families. A wide variety of units covering the problems of feeding, clothing, and housing the family as well as problems met in social and economic phases of life are studied in the Home Economics program. The modern department set up gives splendid opportunity for practical work so necessary to supplement the theoretical study of homemaking.

The Seniors this year had a very interesting unit in refinishing furniture, including kitchen chairs, high chairs, picture frames, jewelry boxes, and what-nots. Some near-miracles were performed, resulting in most attractive pieces.

One of the outstanding units of the Junior year was study of homes and selection by each girl of her "dream home" for which she planned and chose furnishings. The girls went on a field trip to observe types of dwellings and building material in Troy.

The Sophomores made a detailed study of Leisure Activities and made a survey of interesting hobbies which would be suitable for high school girls to pursue. They gave several teas for which they had planned and made refreshments and practiced serving.

All Home Economics classes have units in food selection and preparation and in choosing and making attractive clothing. Forty-eight girls in Senior High School and all Junior High School girls were enrolled in Home Economics courses in 1944–45.

Home Nursing

Lef to Right: First Row—Wilma Ames, Alberta Swain, Beatrice Winder, Marie Card, Marjorie Criss, Mrs. Mack, Rhea Brown, Eleanor Chapman, Carol Hooker.

Second Row—Beverly Balmer, Barbara Greenough, Shirley Wright, Dorando Mason, Jeannine Rockwell, Margaret Heath, Bernetta Van Noy, Geraldine Lewis, Arlene Craig, Pauline Ide, Marcella May.

A new feature of Troy High School this year was the Home Nursing Class for the Senior girls. About 25 girls took the course. The first part of the year they were under the leadership of Nurse Katherine Prentice, a graduate of St. Joseph Hospital, Elmira, N. Y. The second half of the year the girls were under the supervision of the Home Ec. Department. The aims of the course was to prepare the girls for emergencies in the home.

Varsity Basketball, 1945

The team this year was a green team consisting of only one regular, Fanning, from last year's team. With Mr. Crumbling's constant coaching, however, the team soon lost its greenness. They played hard all the way, but seemed to fail in the last few minutes and lost several heartbreakers by one or two points.

Three of these one point loses were: Wellsboro 23–24, Towanda 27–28, and Canton 34–35. The return game wtih Towanda was lost by two points, 33–35.

Fanning and Morse were co-captains.

The team had considerable hard luck on their foul shooting and the loss of many games was attributed to not taking advantage of these free throws.

Morse played most of the season at center and was high scorer. Although this was Haven's first year on the Varsity, he was one of our starting forwards and Guiles, McClure, Punchard, andKendall shared the other forward position. Fanning, Inman, and Packard served as our reliable guards, stopping many of the opponents' tries for goals, and recovering a good many rebounds.

Stanton, Williams, and Harper were our dependable substitutes.

Morse and Havens were selected from Troy for the All Star game with the Champions, Canton. The All Star won, 34-32.

Roosevelt Trail League Champions

Our Trojan Varsity did a great job in bringing the baseball championship to Troy High for the second consecutive year. Canton was the only team to win a game from the Trojans this season.

Francis Harper was the pitching mainstay and turned in some fine twirling, climaxed by his 6–0 shut out of Towanda in the final game deciding the championship.

McKerrow was outstanding in the outfield, saving games by spectacular fielding, and coming through with hits when they counted. Layton Calkins handled the receiving job in great style, and his power hitting was a big feature in winning games.

The infield made up of Morse, Criss, Crandle, and Parkard outclass the rest of the league and had lots of power at the plate.

McClue, Guild, Punchard, White, R. Harper, and Inmann played and gave a good account of themselves in many games.

Bible Study

This is the fourth year of the course of study in the Bible. The course of study during the past year has been "The Appreciation of the Old Testament." The study has included the birth of Israel as a nation, the voice of the great prophets and the Later Writings. Pictoscripts were introduced to this class. This is art work and story to depict the living of Biblical times.

COLLECTION FOR WAR NEEDS

There have been several collections made this year. A milk weed pod collection was made early in the year. Paper and tin collections were made near the end of the school year. All the collections proved very successful.

For the Red Cross an auction sale was held and $32.70 was received. Total contributions from all members of the school were $342.85.

History of Troy High School

W. R. CROMAN

The oldest institution of learning in this vicinity was the old Shad school house situated on the site of the present meat market. It took its name from the weathervane in the form of a fish which surmounted the building. This school was built by public subscription and as money was scarce in those days all of the subscriptions were in terms of lumber, iron or work. The work was commenced in 1823. Forty years after its erection it was bought by Bryan Hanaway and moved to the lower end of Elmira Street to make room for a new School house which, converted into a meat market, still stands on the old site.

The McKean Female Seminary was founded about 1838. It was situated on West Main Street, on the site of the double house owned by the late Mr. N. M. Pomeroy. The building served the double purpose of school and church, and is now used by Mrs. Harry Mitchell as a barn. It was named for Gen. Samuel McKean, by whom it was endowed in his will. In the year 1839, Miss Mary Sayer was principal.

The Troy Academy was built in 1840 by James Riddle underthe direction of Colonel Pomeroy. Among those who originated and aided in this undertaking were Colonel Pomeroy, V. M. Long, Francis Smith and S. W. Paine. In 1842 it was incorporated and for some time received aid from the state, but this was not its only means of support. Its chief revenue was derived from the tuition, paid by the students in cash. This building was long used for the Academy, and today, as a dwelling-house, it stands onts its original site on Paine's Hill.

The Academy was opened in 1842, with Rev. Freeman Lane, an Episcopal clergyman, as the first principal. Mr. Charles C. Paine was the second principal and his assistant was a Miss Greenough.

The third principal was Mr. Ezra Osden Long. Miss Margaret Eglin was assistant teacher. A little later Mr. Long died and Miss Eglin continued as assistant to Mr. Liddell and later, for a time, with Ambrose Axtell, who succeeded Mr. Liddell. Miss Eglin was succeeded by Miss Ribley, of Owego. The curriculum at this time embraced " a thorough English education" or a study of literature including a study of the classics. There was a primary branch and a common branch and a higher English branch including Geometry, Surveying, Chemistry, Natural Philosophy, Botany, Classics and Modern Languages, Drawing and Painting. The advantages of this imposing array of subjects could be procured for the munificent sum of from one dollar and a half per term in the primary branches to five dollars per term for classics and modern languages. At this time board could be procured for from one dollar to a dollar and a half a week.

In 1848 H. Boardman Smith was principal and his sister, Grace, had charge of the primary department.

The Kellum family was next in succession—Mr. John H. Kellum as principal, his sister, Augusta, as teacher of the primary department and Mrs. Kellum as music teacher.

The next principal was P. S. Ruth, who also served as Rector of the 2Episcopal church. It has been said of Mr. Ruth that he had a withered arm but a sound head.

Next came Dr. Pratt, who was interested in music to the extent of having the pupils learn and recite their lessons in a sing-song way. On good authority it is stated that there was no school from the spring of 1854 to the fall of 1856.

During the summer of 1856 the building underwent some necessary repairs. In the fall school was opened with Hiram C.Johns as principal and for the first term his assistant was a Miss Seymour; for the second term his assistant's place was filled by Albert C. Hopkins.

About this time many strong debates were held in the Academy on the question of slavery, for at that time there were just as many who believed in that great evil as there were who opposed it.

The next year (1857) a former pupil states that there were one hundred one pupils in all grades in the school, some of them very far advanced. Mr. Johns was succeeded by J. J. Crandall with Miss Willmot and Miss Mary Bowen as assistants.

Rev. Sidney Mills was principal during a part of the year 1857 and during the year 1858. Besides teaching he put in his spare time as minister to the Presbyterian church. One of Mr. Mills' strong points was that he was a superior elocutionist and to him belongs the credit of introducing oratory into the school.

Prof. Daniels succeeded Rev. Mills. He was noted for his strict discipline. He was succeeded in turn by Prof Cowdry, Mr. Goss, Prof. F. N. Cross and Prof. Verrill from Maine.

There was open all this period a district school. But in 1868 a public school was founded which absorbed all others. The first term of the Troy Public High School opened on Monday, October 26, 1868, with Professor Lewis M. Johnson as principal. The following is a quotation from a descriptive pamphlet issued at the time:

"The citizens of Troy Borough, having long felt the want of a Proper SCHOOL, to accommodate not only the Pupils of their own Boro., but one that will afford ample facilities for all the Young Gentlemen and Ladies of Western Bradford who desire to obtain a thorough education, have, at an expense of over $20,000 just completed the Finest School Building in Northern Pennsylvania.

"The building is substantially constructed of Brick, in modern style; is 60 feet square, with east and west wings for entrance, and two stories high—has four Rooms, 28x28 feet on the first floor, and two Rooms 28x40 on second floor—capable of being thrown into one Room, 40x56 feet, whenever necessary.

"There are also two Recitation Rooms, 16x28 feet each, on the second floor, and spacious Cloak Rooms on both floors for the use of the Pupils.

"The whole Building is well lighted and ventilated, and is heated with two of Lawson's Patent Hot Air Furnaces.

"The Rooms are finished throughout with ash, and furnished with seats and desks of the most modern and approved styles.

"It is the design of the people of Troy to make this in all respects a

FIRST-CLASS SCHOOL;

"And to supply a demand that has long existed in this community, by affording facilities for the attainment of a Sound, Thorough and Practical Education.

"Students desiring to prepare for College will here find the amplest opportunities for that thorough preparation so indispensable to success,"

Mr. Hutton succeeded Mr. Johnson as principal and reorganized the whole school into grades as there had been no real grades, as we know them now. Mr. Hutton was succeeded by Professor J. T. McCollum, and the Troy Public School became the Troy Graded and High School.

Professor McCollum was in charge of the school for a number of years and it is partly due to his excellent management and business ability that the Troy school established such a fine reputation.

Professor McCollum was succeeded by Professors Fleisher, Murray, Whatenecht, Gordinier, White, Denison, Crosley, and Croman.

Two teachers who served for many years in the old days of Troy High School were Mrs. Sarah Willett and Miss Grace Sayles. Many alumni are thankful that they had the privilege of studying under these enthusiastic and devoted teachers. Their influence has been very great.

In 1913 an agricultural department was added to the school and in 1915 a large annex to the school house was built. In this year a complete modernization was undertaken with the Junior High School idea as the main objective.

In 1917 the Van Dyne Civic Building was added to the school plant. This was the gift of Mr. E. E. Van Dyne to the people of Troy and vicinity. It contained an auditorium with a large stage and fine scenery and a moving picture outfit, a gymnasium for basketball, indoor athletics, dancing, etc., a kitchen, a free public library, and rest rooms. This was a wonderful gift and was highly prized by the citizens and students.

In 1920 Mr. Henry P. Davison gave to the Troy Borough School District the beautiful house known as the Principal's Home. This was completely furnished. Mr. Davison also purchased and remodeled the building known as the Davison Apartments. In doing this he had two objects in mind. First, that the income from the apartments would pay for the upkeep of the Principal's Home, and second, that the center of the town would be greatly beautified.

In 1921 the Alumni Association erected a second annex to the building. This balanced the annex of 1915 and made an imposing looking structure.

The entire building was destroyed by fire on January 6, 1922. On Monday January 9, school opened in different buildings around town including the Civic Building, the Masonic Club Room, the fireproof garage, the Grange Hall, and the condensery. The present building was financed by what is known as the Troy Plan. Sessions were begun in this building March 18, 1924.

After the fire occurred January 6, 1922, $55,000 was obtained from fire insurance. The maximum legal bonding of the district was $42,000. There was also $20,000 in bonds outstanding against the school district. This left an available amount of $77,000 for buliding purposes, whereas a building costing upwards of $200,000 was needed. The School Board tried in many ways to overcome the legal handicap and in consultation with public-spirited citizens obtained a Holding Corporation to finance the building.

The members of the School Board at the time were W. S. Montgomery, B. B. Mitchell, Arthur McMahan, D. J. Fanning and Anna B. Case. The members of the Holding Corporation were H. K. Mitchell, J. H. McClelland, H. J. Pierce, J. C. Blackwell, and W. W. Beaman. As a result of their combined efforts, a school building costing $185,000 was erected, the Holding Corporation furnishing $135,000, which was obtained by an issue of 5 per cent bonds.

In 1925 a Commercial Department was added to the courses of instruction and in 1926 a Home Economics Department. This same year the school was officially approved as a Junior-Senior high school. In 1932 the playground was enlarged and modernized. Most of the money for this enterprise was obtained from student activities. An interesting student project known as the "Dime Fund," was started in 1932 when school was being held in the Van Dyne Civic Building. A ten-cent piece was found on the floor and brought to the desk. This was given to the President of the Student Council with insctructions to invest it and see how much he could return. He returned fifty cents. This fifty cents was given to the secretary of the Student Council, who returned three dollars and twenty-six cents. After that one dollar was given each week to each of the several students. Nearly always the dollar came back doubled or tripled. This was known as the Dime Fund and amounted to several hundred dollars.

The gates at the entrance to the playground were erected by the Alumni Association. The Alumni Association has always been active in school affairs. They have assisted in other projects, such as the Grace Sayles Memorial Library, the Home Economics equipment, the Alumni English prize, and the new library. Miss Leila Foote has been the efficient secretary of the Association for many years and has kept the records of Alumni up to date.

With the inauguration of the government's work program, the cafeteria was constructed and large store rooms were built underneath the shower rooms, also the foundation of the first annex was made. the engineering work on there projects was done by Mr. Wilson Weigester.

About this time the increase in enrollment was such that a temporary shop was built next to the school building and the Van Dyne Civic Building was used for some of the music work. Later the government innaugurated a Public Works Administration to make outright grants of 45 per cent of the cost of public buildings.

The tax rate before the fire was 24 mills and after the fire it was jumped to 35 mills and has been gradually reduced to 21 mills. It was not reduced, however, until a surplus of something like $12,000 had been accumulated so that the School Board was in a position to accept the government's offer and construct an annex consisting of the music room, a shop, and a health room, at the west end of the building at a cost of $27,000.00. This building did not relieve the crowded condition but made better housing facilities for the shop and the music.

When Congress made the second P. W. A. appropriation, the School Board decided to build another annex. A survey of the needs of our district was made by the State Department at Harrisburg and plans were drawn for an annex at the east end of the building. To finance this, the Holding Corporation was asked to call in its outstanding 5 per cent bonds amounting to $97,000 and to reissue the original amount of $135,000 at 4 per cent. This gave the School Board $38,000 and an annex costing $97,000 was erected. This cost included the land, the architect's fee, and the equipment. As the $135,000 at 4 per cent will mature, the $38,000 obtained through the Holding Corporation greatly lessens any burden to the district caused by the erection of this new annex. An additional source of revenue was the sum of $4,000 obtained as an extra appropriation from the State Department at Harrisburg. Thus it may be said that the two annexes costing $125,000 were obtained by using up the Board's accumulated surplus and the borrowing of $10,000.

With the completion of this annex, an industrial arts course was added to the school curriculum in 1939. The first class graduating fromthis course was in June, 1941.

During the school year of 1943–44, the old home economics room in the main building was refinished for a library room. The money for this project was raised by the classes of 1943 and 1944, by the Alumni Association, by the Lion's Club, the high school cafeteria, the School Board, and other cources. This library is one of the finest high school libraries in northern Pennsylvania.

Another building project is needed to make the present school building on of the most complete in Pennsylvania. That is a large auditorium with a large stage and all of the facilities that go with a school auditorium.

During all these years there has prevailed a fine school spirit. Old timers speak of the good old days and the enthusiasm they had not only for their work but also for various school activities. The School attempts to provide for the needs of students with different desires and varying degrees of ability. Through this program, through its athletics, music, and clubs; through the ideal that they who give most in service to the School and the community, themselves profit most, the Spirit of Troy High School has developed. This school spirit lies behind the saying, "Another Troy High School student makes good."

Class History

1942–1943

When school reopened in the fall of 1942 we entered as sophomores and no longer felt as strangers to our classmates or other students. For our leaders this year we elected Dick White, President; Glenn Havens, Vice President; Marcella May, Secretary; Winifred Avery, Treasurer. Our first social event of the year was the Sophomore Hop. It proved to be very successful and everyone had a very enjoyable time.

1943–1944

September, 1943, it is possible that school is here again and we are Juniors? For our officers this year we elected President, Marcella May; Vice President, Lyman Inman; Secretary, Edward Morse; Treasurer, Beverly Balmer. To pay the expenses of our Prom we sponsored a dance in the gym. Then time for the Prom drew near and one saw Juniors busy everywhere. All the Juniors worked hard to make the Prom a success. Queen Marcella May and King Lyman Inman were crowned by June Kelly and Layton Calkins of the preceding year. School seems to be swiftly drawing to a close and the summer vaccation seems to be very near at hand.

1944–1945

Due to the epidemic of polio in Pennsylvania the doors of Troy High School did not open until October 2. This year we entered as proud Seniors no longer be looked upon as underclassmen. This year we elected Edward Moore; President; Lyman Inman, Vice President; Bernetta Van Noy, Secretary; Keith Robbins, Treasurer; as our capable officers. The Seniors again sponsored the Curtis Magazine Sales; a favorable sum of money was made and it was decided to use this money to equip a first-aid room. We selected "Midnight" as our Senior play this year. The play was a comic-mystery and ran three nights instead of the usual two.

In early April two of our boys, Edmund Stanton and Glenn Haven joined the Navy. The Senior class held a farewell party for them at the Fairgrounds. It seems that school has gone exceptionally fast this year and now we are ready for graduation. Some of our boys have already gone to do theirpart and many more of our class mates will be in the armed forces helping to make the world a better place in which to live. The outlook is brighter because of the victories in Germany and the advances toward the Japanese homeland. There will be the problem of rebuilding the world in which we can do and will do our shares.

SCHOOL'S OUT

Commencement soon . . . then vacation. The old swimming hole . . . young America at play and at work . . . .

What will you do with those spare dollars you earn this summer doing odd jobs, working in Dad's store, the local soda bar, or helping some farmer produce food? Remember, your help is needed too—to win the war—and the dollars you earn invested with Uncle Sam mean savings toward your future ducation.

Back the attack with work and savings.
